ISSUE: STUDENTS CANDIDATES FOR ERASMUS K-107- Semester A 2023-2024 at the Polytechnic University of Valencia (Spain)

The outbreak of war in Sudan has mainly affected Khartoum State and particularly our College as we are close to one of the main battlefields, the Presidential Palace. Our premises are not reachable by staff members nor students, which hinders us from following regular procedures for the selection of candidates.

In order to address mobility activities within the framework of the collaboration agreement for project KA171-HED-000074639, the selection committee has met virtually due to the force majeure situation caused by the current war. Given the impossibility of managing new mobilities from Sudan as the Embassy of Spain in Khartoum and Government structures in the capital are closed, the above mentioned Committee has considered the serious commitment of the CCST student, Ayoub Ibrahim Alnour during his stay in the last semester at the UPV, as well as his previous qualifications during the last selection process, and has resolved to propose the student for a study stay at the UPV during the first semester of the 2023-24 academic year to develop his Final Degree Project at the School of Computer Engineering.
